

1 (SATIRIC COMEDY): “The Numbered”

An Eastern European man with poor English immigrates to the USA only to find out that whole his existence in this country is encoded in numbers more than in words. His communication becomes more and more disappointing and difficult facing hilarious situations. He finds the unique way to beat the society with these “rules” at its own game – the trick that even made him a hero.

2 (SCI-FI/THRILLER): “Tube Pets”

Underground clinic is cloning pets from DNA for clients who lost their pets under different reasons. During the process genetic engineers overlooked a process when pets begin to acquire human spirit that creates sometimes fatal consequences for the owners. A young scientist begins to investigate the case as it has gone out of hands. There is a surprise cure to get which the protagonist has to go through the life of the cloned animal himself.

3 (MYSTERY/THRILLER): "Coincidence"

A young ordinary unemployed man in a course of job search faces a risk of a deadly accident due to a faulty car he is aware of but postpones to repair. Unexpected situation that saves his life is just a strange coincidence that cannot be explained. Further on, his everyday life begins to pose more of unexplainable "coincidences" leaving him with the constant dilemma. He begins to search for the clue and starts analyzing his faith.

4 (DRAMA/ROMANCE): "You Made My Day"

A young man leads the life of an ordinary gigolo as a Don Juan until accidentally he comes across a book of a popular crippled (paralyzed) writer where she writes about an ideal man who made her feel herself a real woman once in her life. He identifies himself in this story and his life begins to change dramatically. Once he finds her he tries to turn over a new leaf – the decision that throws him into challenging situations.

5 (FAMILY DRAMA/ADVENTURE) "Who Said We Were Lost"

The family has been going through difficult times of alienation from each other due to the father's tight work schedule, the mother's depressive character, teenage daughter's rebellious wish to split with the family and go on her own, the little son's problems with signs of autism.

On one of the vacation trips to a foreign country (supposedly Asia) they buy a puppy for which they have to go through the turmoil to smuggle the puppy evading legal procedures; their adventure totally turns once split-up family into consolidated, loving and caring stronghold.

6 (DRAMA / ADVENTURE) "The Catcher in the Stream"

Three childhood friends struggling with the tough life they have had for the last decades face dead-end situation each in its own way: depression, drug addiction, prostitution. They find each other thanks to their childhood dream they once pledged to stay devoted to. But the spontaneous decision to realize their dream make them face strong opposition from the Mother Nature where the critical decision-making and care about each other make them fight back to stay alive.